Conduit Systems, Inc. Introduces New Contract Structure

Lincoln, RI, August 3, 2006 - Conduit Systems, Inc., a leading provider of Outsourced IT Support and an Application Service Provider, today announced the addition of a new contract structure to address the financial concerns of the SMB market.

Conduit offers several different contract options designed to address the unique IT support needs of small to medium-sized businesses. The latest iteration of these contracts, as with Conduit's other types, remains sensitive to the financial needs of our clients. This "pay-as-you-go" contract style eliminates all upfront fees, all minimum financial commitments and allows clients to pay for only the work performed.

Another unique feature of this contract structure is the flat rate that is set for all skill sets. One rate is offered for consultation, infrastructure, server and desktop support. This approach encourages our clients to leverage the talent of the Engineers and Principals of Conduit, effectively removing another barrier to engaging high-level IT expertise.

Conduit's experience has shown that when organizations involve Conduit in the management, consultation, and planning process, overall support costs are actually reduced when compared to traditional Outsourced contractual engagements. More importantly, the IT "product" is not short-sighted, nor is it prone to constant re-working to meet the client's needs.

Adding to the financial incentives, clients are given the option to engage in longer term agreements - essentially a bulk purchase of Conduit Systems support - resulting in incremental savings.

For more information on all the available contract options, contact Dan Tully, Executive V.P. at Conduit Systems at 888-426-4100 x 4140 or ddtully@conduitsystems.com.
